

Barbara Levi, Esq. Bio

Barbara Levi is a member of the Corporate Law, Contracts and Commercial Law practice group of the U.S. Law Department of Unilever, the global consumer products company. Her practice involves review and negotiation of a variety of commercial agreements, and she is also the Legal Lead for a supply chain value realization project which spans the Western Hemisphere. Prior to those assignments, Barbara was Assistant General Counsel of Elizabeth Arden Co., formerly a Unilever subsidiary. She has also served as a Special Assistant Attorney General for the State of New York, prosecuting white collar criminal cases in the areas of Medicaid and Nursing Home fraud.

Barbara is a graduate of Skidmore College and received her law degree from Brooklyn Law School.

Barbara is an active member of the New York State Bar Association and has served as Chair of the Corporate Counsel Section and was founding Chair of the Section's Diversity Internship Committee. She currently co-chairs, with Allison Tomlinson, the Corporate Counsel Committee of the International Law Section.